DETECTIVES SAY

Search Is Instituted for Confederate of Alleged Counterfeiter

in East St. Louis.

The East St. Louis police and United States Secret Service men are searching for the confederate who is believed to ave aided Robert Smith, arrested on the charge of passing counterfeit dollars, which were made of pure silver, but not n the Government mints. Smith was arrested late Tuesday night Detectives Fitts and Logan, and yessaloonkeepers and others, who charge that saloonkeepers and others who charge that he passed the counterfelt dollars on them. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Stanton and was held under $3,000 bond to Stanton and was held under $2,00 bond to the Grand Jury.

Smith's plan, according to the police, was to take a single bad dollar and to enter a saloon or enting-house and get a drink or a sandwich. He would receive good money in change for his dollar. In this way he would go from place to place, getting bad dollars one at a time from a confederate. The plan was for him to never have more than one bad dollar at a time in his possession, should suspicion be directed toward him.

The last counterfeit dollar he passed, it is charged, was received by Alderman James Whelan, propristor of a saloon on South Main street, Whelan noticed that the dollar did not appear to be good, and after the customer departed he examined it and made saire that it was not. He then notified the police and Detectives Fitts and Logan captured Smith a few hours later.

ney. William Beckel and Patrick Kil-keary.

Smith had $21 in silver change and one of the counterfeit dollars in his pockets when searched at the police station.

He says that he found the dollars which he passed in East St. Louis, and said that he came here from Ardmore. I. T. From some of the papers on his persons the po-lice believe that he came to East St. Louis from Kansas City. Mo., and have tele-graphed to the authorities there concern-ing him.

The counterfeit dellar which Smith had was made of silver and had the right ring, but the edges are rough and it is lighter than the genuine coin.

Wild Steer Causes Excitement.

A wil steer, which broke loose from the National Stock Yards late Tuesday night, caused considerable excitement around chased haif a hundred men and boys, but was finally captured and tied to a telegraph pole, where it was kept until morning, when it was taken back to the stock yards.

Trench Diggers Buried.

Young Woman Sues Son of Dry Goods Merchant for Damages -Says He Refused to Marry Her.

Brnest Horn, 24 years old, son of Gestav Horn, a wealthy merchant of East St. Louis, was made defendant yesterday in a $10,000 suit for alleged breach of promise The action was brought by Miss Julia Redelmann, a pretty young woman of No.

Horn is the proprietor of a prosperou norning newspaper route, and as a result be has much time to spare during the day. He spent some of this time in his father's dry goods store at Fourth street and Missouri avenue, where Miss Redelmann was employed as a clerk. Horn called on Miss Redelmann for several months, and in June, he is said to have asked Mrs. Redelmann for her daughter's hand.

Mrs. Redelmann said that she had no objection to the match if they leved each other. She says that she was assured by both that they did, and the wedding date both that they did, and the wedding date was set for July 21. According to Miss Redelmann, Horn Immediately started to look for a house, and his brother, Herman Horn, gave her a wedding present, itorn is also said to have given her several wedding presents.

On the evening of July 2 Miss Redelmann says that they had a little misunderstanding because Horn broke an engagement with her to go to St. Louis, since then she says that he has called on her only once, and has refused to marry her.

her.

Last week Miss Redelmann says that she went to Hora's home and demanded to see him, to get an explanation of his neglect, but he is said to have refused to come downstairs. Despairing of effecting a reconciliation, Miss Redelmann visited attorneys, and the suit for damages for breach of promise is brought.

Mr. Horn says that the suit was n big surprise to him. He declared that he had referred the case to his attorney, and that he would not make a statement until the case was called for trial.

In the basement of the Wolf home is an old grate, and in this grate. Sam and his companions in playing built a fire with paper. The fire soon reached such proportions as to frighten the children, and they piled on more paper to smother it. This it did for a time, but when the fismes burst out from the mass of paper the children became thoroughly frightened and ran out into the yard screaming.

Some one, seeing the dease volume of smoke issuing from the door basement door, turned in an alarm, but before the Fire Department reached the house the fire had been extinguished.

WRANGLE OVER SITE IS ENDED. Carnegie Library to Be Built to Park in Edwardsville.

A dispute of a year and a half in Edware-ville concerning the site for the free public library given to the city by Andrew Carnegie was settled last night, the City Council by resolution setting asiac a suitable lot in the City Park.

The Library Board wrestled in vain with the proposition. Many sites were effered, some at a reasonable figure, others free of cost, but each portion of the lown wanted the building, and each fought ine other's endeavors to hand it, so that the proposition remained at deadlock.

Fronting on Kansas street, with its sides toward Park and Vandedia streets, the new library will occupy a knoll on the western side of the park, one of the pretitest and most central locations in the city. The building will cost from $12.00 to $14.00. public library given to the city by An-
